

The Daily Courant.

Monday, June 1. 1713.

London, June 1.

On Saturday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated June 6.

Warsaw, May 17.

TH E Imperial Envoy has had an Audience of the King of Poland, and presented to him Propositions in Writing, tending to engage his Majesty to assist the Emperour against France.

'Tis advised from Caminiec, that the grand Vizier had had a Conference with the Czar's Minifters, who were come from Constantinople to Adrianople: And we are assured that a new Treaty is concluded, confirming the Peace between the Ottoman Porte and his Czarian Majesty.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated June 6.

Vienna, May 24. The Court received Advice the 22d Instant, that the Empress would arrive to Day at Inspruck, where the Dutchess her Mother was expecting her. 'Tis still affirmed, that his Imperial Majesty will go and command in Person his Army on the Upper Rhine, whence we soon expect to hear News, Prince Eugene of Savoy having obtained all he desired, with a full Power to act as he shall think fit.

From the Imperial Camp near Philipsbourg, May 30.

The French flatter themselves they shall be able to open the Campaign the 10th of next Month: They have set Men to work to repair with all Expedition their Lines at Croonweissenbourg: They send thither abundance of Artillery from Strasbourg, where arrive daily Troops to form their Army; but hitherto they have not made Provision of any great Quantity of Corn, which is extraordinary dear in their Country. The 26th the Imperial Troops under Count Fells arrived here from Mannheim. Several other Regiments joyn the Army daily. Tho' the Enemy seem to have a design to besiege Landau, 'tis believed they will attempt rather to penetrate into Swabia by the Black Forrest; to prevent which Prince Eugene detached the 26th Instant General Vaubonne with 8000 Men, to take Possession of the Posts of that Forrest. The French are likewise drawing Troops together near Hunningen, which gives us Apprehension for the Forrest-Towns; but we hope the Swiss, who are warned of it, will look to their Security.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated June 6.

Frankfort, May 31. The Baron de Kirchner is set out from hence for Cassel, whence he will go to Munster and to Hanover, there to negotiate some Troops. The Landgrave of Hesse passed by Friedberg Yesterday in his Way to Slangenbath; his Highness is attended by his Guards, and besides three Regiments of his Troops are posted along the Rhine, to secure him against the Enemies Parties. We learn from Vienna by Letters of the 24th Instant, that the Emperour will go to receive the Empress at Munich, and thence repair to his

Army; and that several Princes of the Empire have resolved to make the Campaign incognito, under his Imperial Majesty.

From the Hague Courant, dated June 7.

Frankfort, June 1. Letters from Alsace tell us, that the Marshal de Villars arrived the 28th of last Month at Strasbourg, where the Ingenieurs were appointed to rendezvous. The Troops of the King's Household are expected in Alsace the 6th Instant, as also the first Detachment from Flanders. The Garrison of Landau is reinforced to 9000 Men, and that Place is furnished with all necessary Stores for sustaining a Siege, tho' no doubt it will be sufficiently covered by our Army's passing the Rhine. The Imperial Troops from Brabant are arrived in the Neighbourhood of Philipsbourg. General Vaubonne, who is gone with 8000 Men towards the Black Forrest, is to be reinforced by some more Regiments. 'Tis said our grand Army will speedily encamp near Spier.

From the Paris Letter, dated June 2.

Paris, June 2. We have Advice from Turin, that the Duke of Savoy has already nominated the Officers who are to serve him in the Quality of King of Sicily, and those who are to command in that Kingdom, of which he proposes to go and take Possession in July. All the Lieutenant-Generals who are to serve in Alsace are set out from hence, among others the Prince de Tingri, M. d'Alegre, de Gassion, d'Albergotti, de Coigny, and several others of our best Generals who have served in Flanders. 'Tis now said that no Reform of the Troops will be made till after the general Peace. 'Tis advised from Metz, that the Marshal de Bezons who arrived there the 19th past, was to set out the 27th to go and view the Places and Magazines on the Moselle and the Sarre, and then to draw together our Troops. They are cantoned in three separate Bodies, one towards Trier under the Command of the Marquis d'Alegre, another near Saar-Louis under M. de Vivans, and the third on the Upper-Sarre commanded by M. Chaylader. At Metz, Strasbourg, and Fort-Louis prodigious Stores are got together of all Ammunition for Sieges. The Chevalier de St. George is continually entertained with Diversions of one kind or other by the Court of Lorraine: The 18th past he went with that Court to Barleduc, where the Opera Amphytrion was ordered to be performed for him: The 21st there was a great Feast at the Mesnagerie of her Royal Highness the Dutchess of Lorraine, where were present with the Chevalier, the Prince d'Epinoy, the Earl of Middleton and another English Gentleman, the Marquisses de Craon and Spada, M. de Furstemberg, Bassompierre, Buffay, and Foutille.

From the Hague Courant, dated June 7.

part of the Dutch Garrison, and this Morning Brigadier Idsinga marched out with the remaining three Regiments. Our Magistrates went to the Gates to receive the French Troops.

Ypres, June 4. This Morning the Prince of Holstein-Beck, with the Dutch Troops, took Possession of this Place.
